Brad way back when :)

The Dukes are passionate about supporting our community not for profit groups and welcome Community Living Prince Edward County today.

Community Living Prince Edward is a not-for-profit organization who provides services for over 350 children, youth, and adults with an intellectual disability in PEC and surrounding areas. Our services are inclusive of accommodation supports, community participation, family services and employment. We exist to support the full participation, inclusion, and citizenship of people with an intellectual disability in the life of the community.

Representing Community Living today on the red carpet is Jessica Huff. Also present today at the CLP booth in the lobby is Stacey Kinnear, coordinator of the Associate Home program and Audrey Hugh, Supervisor, Supports & Services.

Please visit their booth in the lobby and show your support by purchasing a raffle ticket for your chance to win a Dukes Game worn autographed Dukes Jersey. Draw to take place during first intermission and winner will be announced by our PA Announcer.

Best Hockey Advice I have been given?

My Grandfather always told me to, "Keep your stick on the ice"!

Why I love being a Duke?

I joined the team in January for the last half of the season, the Dukes staff and teammates have welcomed me in and have made me feel apart of the team already!

I want Dukes fans to know:

I was very excited to join a hard working team and hope to have a long playoff run for you guys!

I looked forward to meeting the community and it has been an amazing experience!

Coach Lewis note: Our 03 players have served a great contribution. For choosing to come to a program that went through a huge transformation they have provided leadership and maturity to an entirely new group of teammates. They have been dedicated on and off the ice and have provided a great example to our younger players. It is our hope and goal to see that they play many more games after today in front of a very loyal fan base.
